Re: U18 Overage Players - Female

For the 2019-20 season, Minor Council initiated a change to the U18 Overage Policy, wherein female U18 players who had previously played “AAA” were eligible to play as an Overage Player in the “A” division.

After a review of how those players impacted league play and discussing feedback from last season, Minor Council has determined to no longer allow former “AAA”-level players as Overage U18 Players for the 2020-21 season. Only former “A”-level female players may play as Overage U18 Players.

While the change was made last year with the intention of enabling as many female players as possible to continue playing the game while they remained in high school, the consensus is that it inadvertently negatively affected game play at the recreational level.

We apologize for the late timing of this decision and understand that there are likely players who were preparing to make application to our office. We share in their disappointment that they will be unable to play U18 hockey this year.
